

Privacy Policy

This privacy policy explains how Tuolumne Books and our website www.books.tuolumnegroup.com (collectively, "Tuolumne Books", "we," "us," and "our") collects, uses, shares, and processes information about you. This privacy policy describes our practices concerning your personal data that we process when we provide you with Tuolumne Books' services, including the services available through our website at www.books.tuolumnegroup.com, or that we collect through third party or partner mobile, browser, and desktop applications, and other services where we link this Policy (collectively the "Services").

It also tells you about your privacy rights. Our Terms of Service provide further terms governing your use of the Services. Together, along with this Privacy Policy, our Terms of Service and any other electronic or written agreement as applicable between or applicable to Tuolumne Books and Customer, which govern the provision of the Service to you, as may be updated from time to time, form our "Agreement." By accessing, downloading, registering with, purchasing from, or otherwise using our Services, you agree to the Agreement.

Please read this Privacy Policy and all other applicable terms of our Agreement carefully before you start to use the Services. By using the Services or signing up for an account, you accept and agree to be bound and abide by the Agreement and consent to and agree that we may collect, process, use, retain, disclose, and transfer your Personal Data as described in this Privacy Policy. If you do not agree to the full Agreement, you must not access or use the Services.

We reserve the right to change this Privacy Policy at any time. We will alert you that changes have been made by indicating the "last updated" date of the current version. We encourage you to review this Privacy Policy from time to time to make sure that you understand how any Personal Data we collect will be used.

1. Contact Information

If you have any questions, comments, requests, or concerns related to this privacy policy or our privacy practices or if you would like to opt-out of future communications or exercise your other privacy-related rights, please feel free to contact us at:

2. Applicability and Eligibility

We need to process your Personal Data to operate our organisation and provide you with our Services. By accepting the Agreement, you are confirming that you have read and understood these policies, including how and why we use your Personal Data. If you don't want us to collect or process your Personal Data in the ways described in this Privacy Policy, you should not use the Services. Please note we are not responsible for the content or the privacy policies or practices of any third party organisation or service that interact with our Services. We encourage you to read the privacy policies of these third-party organisations before using any of the Services.

3. Personal Data We Collect

As used herein, the term "Personal Data" means any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person including information that specifically identifies an individual (such as a name, address, telephone number, mobile number, e-mail address, credit card number, ACH bank information, identification number, location data, or an online identifier) and information about that individual or his or her activities that is directly linked to the individual. Personal Data does not include aggregate data, which is data we collect about the use of the Services or about a group or category of services or users, from which an individual's identity cannot be discerned and all other Personal Data has been removed. This Privacy Policy in no way restricts or limits our use of aggregate data.

We rely on a number of legal bases to process the information we receive about you from your use of the Services, including where:

1. you have consented to the processing;
2. the processing is necessary to perform the contractual obligations in order to provide the Services to you, including those of our terms of service;
3. necessary to comply with a legal obligation, a court order, or to exercise or defend legal claims;
4. necessary to protect your vital interests, or those of others;
5. necessary in the public interest;
6. necessary for the purposes of our or a third party's legitimate interests, such as those of visitors, users, or partners; and
7. you have expressly made the information public.

Where we process your information on the basis of consent, we will clearly obtain your opt-in books@tuolumnegroup.com. Where we process your information on the basis of legitimate interests, we do so where the processing is necessary for your legitimate interests or the legitimate interests of a third party, unless there is a good reason to protect your personal data which overrides those legitimate interests. Where given, you may withdraw your consent at any time by contacting us at

Information we may collect about you includes:

Account Information: you may register for an account with us (a "Services Account"). We do not require you to register to use our Services. However, if you do register a Services Account, you will gain access to those areas and features of the Services that require registration. We will collect certain information about you in connection with your registration for a Services Account, which may include Personal Data and other information such as a username and password.

To register for a Services Account, we will ask you to provide the following:

1. Your first and last name, email, password, phone (optional).

To register your organisation for a Services Account, we will ask you to provide the following: your organisation name, requested services, team member's name and email.

Payment Transaction Information: We may collect information related to purchases made through the Services. You may provide certain information to complete payments via the Services, including your credit or debit card number, card expiration date, CVV code, billing address, and ACH bank information (collectively, "Payment Information"), along with your name and billing, delivery and shipping address, to complete payment transactions through certain services.

Please note we work with Service Providers (as defined below) to handle payment transactions. We may collect or maintain your credit card or other financial account information and share it with our service providers; this information is handled for us by our Service Providers. You are subject to the privacy policies and terms and conditions of our Service Providers when utilising a third-party service through our Services. Please review the Service Providers' privacy policies and terms and conditions before using their services.

Task Information: When you use the Services, we collect certain information about your inputs into the Services which could contain Personal Data, such as comments, attachments, and daily stand-ups entered by users of the Services.

Correspondence Information: If you sign up, email us, subscribe to our blog, newsletters, or mailing lists, we may keep your message, email address, and contact information to respond to your requests, provide the requested products or Services, and provide notifications or other correspondences to you. We do not share or sell any Personal Data to other organisations for commercial purposes.

If you do not want to receive communications from us in the future, please let us know by sending us an e-mail requesting the same to books@tuolumnegroup.com or by following the unsubscribe instructions found in any e-mail we send. If you supply us with your postal address, you may receive periodic mailings from us with information on new products and services or upcoming events. If you do not wish to receive such mailings, please let us know by contacting us at books@tuolumnegroup.com.

Please note requests to remove your email address from our lists may take some time to fulfill. We may also still contact you as needed to provide important announcements or notifications regarding the Services.

Support Information: you may provide information to us via a support request submitted through the Services at books@tuolumnegroup.com. We will use this information to assist you with your support request. Please do not submit any information to us via a support submission, including confidential or sensitive information that you do not wish for our Service Providers to have access to or use in the future.

Form Information: We may use forms to request certain information from you on the Services, such as your contact information to assist with contacts or service requests. This information may include Personal Data.

User contributions: You may provide information on third party applications that is transmitted by or to third parties (collectively, "User Contributions"). Your User Contributions are posted on and transmitted to others at your own risk. We cannot and do not guarantee that your User Contributions will not be viewed by unauthorised persons.

Public information: We may also collect information about you from publicly available sources. Information you make publicly available in any public or open forum, such as on a social network, may be considered public information for the purposes of this Privacy Policy and may be accessed and collected by us. Please be aware that any content or information you share with or provide to third parties using or related to your use of the Services is neither private nor confidential. We are not responsible for any content or information you post or share with third parties. If you do not wish for certain information to be public, please do not share it publicly.

We do not collect any special categories of Personal Data about you (this includes details about your race or ethnicity, religious or philosophical beliefs, sex life, sexual orientation, political opinions, trade union membership, information about your health, and genetic and biometric data).

4. Information Collected Automatically

We use automatic data collection and analytics technologies to collect aggregate and user-specific information about your equipment, domain name, patterns of use, communication data, and the resources that you access and use on the Services, including your IP address, browsing, and navigation patterns. This information is used to improve our Services.

We generally process information collected automatically on the legal basis of our legitimate interests in assessing the use of our Services. Where appropriate, we may rely on alternate legal bases, such as your consent to certain types of processing.

Information we collect automatically through your use of the Services includes:

Internet browser: Your Internet browser automatically transmits certain anonymous information when you use certain Services. As you navigate through our Services, we and our partners who include third-party Service Providers (as defined below) we engage to help provide our Services, may use automated means to collect various types of information about you, your computer, or other device used to access our Services.

A representative, non-exhaustive list of the types of automatically collected information may include:

1. network or Internet protocol address and type of browser you are using (e.g., Chrome, Safari, Firefox, Internet Explorer);
2. the type of operating system you are using (e.g., Microsoft Windows or Mac OS), the name of your Internet service provider (e.g., Comcast, Verizon, or AT&T) and domains used by such providers, mobile network, device identifiers (such as an Apple IDFA or an Android Advertising ID);
3. device settings;
4. browser settings;
5. the web pages of the Services you have visited;
6. Services visited before and after your visit a Service, the type of handheld or mobile device used to view the Service (e.g., iOS, Android); or
7. location information, and the content and advertisements you have accessed, seen, forwarded, and/or clicked on.

We may use this information to customise your experience with our Services. You may set your browser to notify you when a cookie is sent or to refuse cookies altogether, but certain features of this site may not work without cookies.

We, along with our Service Providers, may use and combine such collected anonymous information to provide better service to site visitors, tailor the site based on your preferences, compile and analyse statistics and trends, monitor website activity and performance and otherwise administer and improve the site for your use. However, such information is not combined with your Personal Data collected.

Information collected by and from social media services and other third-party platforms: Our users can engage in the content on or through social media services or other third-party platforms, such as Facebook, or other third-party social media plug-ins, integrations, and applications. When you engage in our content on or through social media services or other third-party platforms, plug-ins, integrations, or applications, you may allow us to have access to certain information in your profile. This may include your:

1. name;
2. email address;
3. photo;
4. gender;
5. birthday;
6. location; and
7. ID associated with the applicable third-party platform or social media account user files, like photos and videos, your list of friends or connections, people you follow and/or who follow you, or your posts or "likes."

For a description on how social media services and other third-party platforms, plug-ins, integrations, or applications handle your information, please refer to their respective privacy policies and terms and conditions, which may permit you to modify your privacy settings.

When we interact with you through our content on third-party websites, applications, integrations, or platforms, we may obtain any information regarding your interaction with that content, such as content you have viewed and information about advertisements within the content you have been shown or may have clicked on.

User rights and choices

You have the right to access, correct, or delete your personal information collected through the LMS. To exercise these rights, please contact our support team at books@tuolumnegroup.com

Analytics information: We use data analytics to ensure site functionality and improve the Services. We use mobile analytics software to allow us to understand the functionality of the Services on your phone. This software may record information such as how often you use the Services, what happens within the Services, aggregated usage, performance data, app errors and debugging information, and where the Services were downloaded from. We do not link the information we store within the analytics software to any Personal Data that you submit within the mobile application.

Log file information: When you use our Services, we may receive log file information such as your

1. IP address;
2. browser type;
3. access times;
4. domain names operating system;
5. the referring web page(s);
6. pages visited;
7. location;
8. your mobile carrier;
9. device information (including device and application IDs);
10. search terms;
11. and cookie information.

We receive log file data when you interact with our Services, for example, when you visit our website, sign in to our Services, or interact with our email notifications. We use log file data to provide, understand, and improve our Services, and to customise the content we show you. We may link this log file to other information we collect about you via the Services

Cookies: We may also capture Personal Data about you automatically through your use of the Services by utilising background local storage and session storage technologies ("Cookies") in order to improve the user experience. Cookies are small files or other pieces of data that are downloaded or stored on your computer or other devices that can be tied to information about your use of our Sites and Services (including certain third-party services and features offered as part of our Services). You may change your browser setting to decline the use of Cookies (though this may adversely affect your operation or use of the Sites or Services). Before using the Tuolumne Books website, you are advised to check your current browser settings to ensure that the settings reflect your consent for Tuolumne Books to place cookies on your devices. You do not have to accept our cookies and you may set your browser to restrict their use and you may delete them after they have been placed on your hard drive. If you do not accept or delete our cookies, some areas of our websites may take more time to work, or may not function properly. This Privacy Policy does not cover the use of cookies by third parties over which we have no control.

Other web technologies: Our Service Providers (defined below) may also use other standard web-based technologies to analyse your movements while accessing our Services. The technologies include web "beacons," "pixel tags," and "clear gifs." These technologies help us ascertain the effectiveness of our product and service campaigns and marketing programs, allow us to customise the services offered on or through our websites, and help determine the best use for websites content, and product and service offerings. Some of this information, including the IP address, may be stored on our Service Provider's server logs and may be available for extended periods of time.

5. How Tuolumne Books Shares Your Personal Data

We use the information we receive about you for the purposes described in this Privacy Policy. We generally process Personal Data received about you through our Services on the legal basis of our legitimate interests in providing the Services and their functionality to you where such processing is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests pursued by us or by our Service Providers related to the Services. Where appropriate, we may rely on alternate legal bases, such as your consent to certain types of processing or pursuant to the performance of a contract. We will not share, sell, rent, or otherwise disclose your Personal Data to third parties without your consent or another valid legal basis permitted by law.

We will share your information in the following circumstances on the legal basis of the legitimate interests of providing the requested Services:

Service Providers: We use third parties to support our business and provide services such as receiving, processing and fulfilling orders, encrypting credit card data as a further measure of securing the data, processing credit card payments, processing product reviews, technical support, and providing comparative performance information relative to our site ("Service Providers"). These third parties have only limited access to your information and may use your information only to perform these tasks on our behalf. Information we share with our Service Providers may include both information you provide to us and information we collect about you, including Personal Data and information from data collection tools like cookies, web beacons, and log files.

We may disclose the personal data that you have provided to us to Service Providers that we have engaged to perform business-related functions on our behalf, but only:

- to contractors we use to support our business or assist in providing the Services, in which case we will require such third parties to agree to treat your personal data in accordance with this policy and use it for the same purposes; or
- in connection with the sale, assignment, merger, or other transfer of the business or of this site to which the information relates, in which case we will require any such buyer to agree to treat your personal data in accordance with this privacy policy and use it for the same purposes; or
- to respond to law enforcement requests or where required by applicable laws, court orders, or government regulations

Google: Google's advertising requirements can be summed up by Google's Advertising Principles. They are put in place to provide a positive experience for users.
<https://support.google.com/adwordspolicy/answer/1316548?hl=en>

We use Google Ads Advertising and analytics on our website.

Google, as a third party vendor, uses cookies to serve ads on our site. Google's use of the DART cookie enables it to serve ads to our users based on their visit to our site and other sites on the Internet. Users may opt out of the use of the DART cookie by visiting the Google ad and content network privacy policy. We have implemented the following:

- Remarketing with Google AdSense
- Google Display Network Impression Reporting
- Demographics and Interests Reporting
- DoubleClick Platform Integration

We along with third-party vendors, such as Google, use first-party cookies (such as the Google Analytics cookies) and third-party cookies (such as the DoubleClick cookie), or other third-party identifiers together to compile data regarding user interactions with ad impressions, and other ad service functions as they relate to our website.

Opting out:

Users can set preferences for how Google advertises to you using the Google Ad Settings page. Alternatively, you can opt out by visiting the Network Advertising initiative opt out page or permanently using the Google Analytics Opt Out Browser add on.

Business transactions: We may purchase other businesses or their assets, sell our business assets, or be involved in a bankruptcy, merger, acquisition, reorganisation, or sale of assets (a "Business Transaction"). Your information, including Personal Data, may be among assets sold or transferred as part of a Business Transaction. In some cases, we may choose to buy or sell assets. Such transactions may be necessary and in our legitimate interests, particularly our interest in making decisions that enable our organisation to develop over the long term.

Safety and Lawful Requests: We may be required to disclose Services user information pursuant to lawful requests, such as subpoenas or court orders, or in compliance with applicable laws. We generally do not disclose user information unless we have a good faith belief that an information request by law enforcement or private litigants meets applicable legal standards. We may share your information when we believe it is necessary to comply with applicable laws, to protect our interests or property, to prevent fraud or other illegal activity perpetrated through the Services or using our name, or to protect the safety of any person. This may include sharing information with other companies, lawyers, agents, or government agencies. Nothing in this Privacy Policy is intended to limit any legal defenses or objections that you may have to a third party, including a government's or request to disclose your information.

Other purposes: Tuolumne Books may also disclose your personal data as is necessary to:

1. IP address;
2. browser type;
3. establish or exercise our legal rights;
4. protect the property or safety of our company and employees, contractors, vendors, suppliers, and customers;
5. defend against legal claims;
6. help with internal and external investigations; or
7. as otherwise required by law or permitted by law.

We may disclose your information in connection with the sale or merger of Tuolumne Books or any transaction that involves the sale or assignment of some or all of our assets.

Aggregated Non-Personal Data: We may disclose aggregated, non-personal data received from providing the Services, including information that does not identify any individual, without restriction. We may share demographic information with business partners, but it will be aggregated and de-personalised so that personal data is not revealed.

6. Your Rights and Choices

We seek to ensure all individuals are provided with the rights mandated by their governing jurisdiction. Not all of the rights discussed in this Privacy Policy will apply to each individual data subject and may not apply to you depending upon your jurisdiction.

You may benefit from a number of rights in relation to the information that we process. Some rights apply only in certain limited cases, depending on your location. If you would like to manage, change, limit, or delete your personal data, you can do so by contacting us at books@tuolumnegroup.com. Upon request, we will provide you with information about whether we hold any of your personal data. In certain cases where we process your information, you may also have a right to restrict or limit the ways in which we use your personal data. In certain circumstances, you also have the right to request the deletion of your personal data, and to obtain a copy of your personal data in an easily accessible format.

If you need further assistance regarding your rights, please contact us using the contact information provided below and we will consider your request in accordance with applicable law. In some cases, our ability to uphold these rights for you may depend upon our obligations to process personal information for security, safety, fraud prevention reasons, compliance with regulatory or legal requirements, or because processing is necessary to deliver the services you have requested. Where this is the case, we will inform you of specific details in response to your request.

If we process your information based on our legitimate interests as explained in this policy, or in the public interest, you can object to this processing in certain circumstances. In such cases, we will cease processing your information unless we have compelling legitimate grounds to continue processing or where it is needed for legal reasons. Where we use your data for direct marketing purposes, you can always object by using the unsubscribe link in such communications or changing your account settings.

Where you have provided consent to certain data processing, you have the right to withdraw that consent at any time by contacting us at books@tuolumnegroup.com. A withdrawal of consent will not affect the validity of our use of your personal data up until the point you have withdrawn your consent.

If you no longer wish to use the Services or receive service-related messages (except for legally required notices), then you may contact us using the information above.

Access to the information we have collected about you: We provide certain tools and settings within the Services to help you access, correct, delete, or modify your personal data associated with the Services. You may also contact us regarding the information we have collected about you, including regarding the nature and accuracy of the data that has been collected about you, to request an update, modification, or deletion of your information, to opt-out of certain Services uses of your information, or to withdraw any consent you may have granted to us. Please note that if you choose to delete your information or opt-out of the collection and use of your information, you understand that certain features, including but not limited to access to the Services, may no longer be available to you.

Data retention: We will retain your information only for as long as is necessary for the purposes set out in this policy, for as long as an account is active or as needed to provide the Services to you. We will retain and use your information to the extent necessary to comply with our legal obligations (for example, if we are required to retain your information to comply with applicable tax/revenue laws), resolve disputes, enforce our agreements, and as otherwise described in this policy. We also retain log files for internal analysis purposes. These log files are generally retained for a brief period of time, except in cases where they are used for site safety and security, to improve site functionality, or we are legally obligated to retain them for longer time periods. We may delete your personal data from our systems as part of a data retention plan. Following termination or deactivation of a Services Account, we may retain your information and content for a commercially reasonable time for backup, archival, and audit purposes.

Opting-out of communications from us: Users may opt-out of receiving certain communications from us by following the unsubscribe process described in email communication, or by contacting us using the contact information provided above. However, please note you may not opt-out of certain Services-related communications, such as account verification, changes or updates to features of the Services, or technical and security notices.

Do Not Track: We do not currently employ a process for automatically responding to "Do Not Track" (DNT) signals sent by web browsers, mobile devices, or other mechanisms. Per industry standards, third parties may be able to collect information, including personal data, about your online activities over time and across different websites or online services when you use Services. You may limit certain tracking by disabling cookies in your Internet browser.

7. Data Security

The security of your personal data is important to us. We take reasonable efforts to secure and protect the privacy, accuracy, and reliability of your information and to protect it from loss, misuse, unauthorised access, disclosure, alteration, and destruction. We implement security measures as we deem appropriate and consistent with industry standards. As no data security protocol is impenetrable, we cannot guarantee the security of our systems or databases, nor can we guarantee that personal data we collect about you will not be breached, intercepted, destroyed, accessed, or otherwise disclosed without authorisation. Accordingly, any information you transfer to or from Services is provided at your own risk.

Please do your part to help us keep your information secure. Services Account information is protected by a password. It is important that you protect against unauthorised access to your account and information by choosing your password carefully and by keeping your password and computer secure, such as by signing out after using the Services. You are responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of your password and Services Account and are fully responsible for all activities that occur under your password or Services Account. We specifically reserve the right to terminate your access to the Services and any contract you have with us related to the Services in the event it learns or suspects you have disclosed your Services Account or password information to an unauthorised third party.

We make reasonable efforts to ensure that our other Service Providers have implemented physical, electronic, and procedural security measures to assist with safeguarding your personal data and to help protect against unauthorised access and disclosure. Only our authorised personnel and our Service Providers who perform legitimate business functions for Tuolumne

Books are authorised to access your personal data. Notwithstanding our efforts, the Internet has inherent security risks. Tuolumne Books cannot promise, and you should not expect, that your personal data, personal searches, and other communications will always remain secure. You should take care with regard to how you handle and disclose your personal data or any username or password that you are required to use to access services on our websites.

8. Data Protection Responsibilities

Where you act for a company processing Personal Data, or where you provide us the Personal Data of individuals, you are acting as a data controller, and Tuolumne Books is the data processor. As a data controller, you are responsible for protecting the Personal Data you process and complying with all relevant legal requirements when you use the Services. This includes applicable data protection and privacy laws that govern the ways in which you can use Personal Data. Data controllers are also responsible for protecting Personal Data they provide to their data processors and must have a written agreement in place governing the details of the processing. Tuolumne Books's Data Processing Amendment is available at this link.

9. Data Integrity

Tuolumne Books will only process personal data in a way that is compatible with and relevant for the purpose for which it was collected or authorised by you. To the extent necessary for those purposes, Tuolumne Books will take reasonable steps to ensure that personal data is accurate, complete, current, and reliable for its intended use.

Tuolumne Books Operates from the United States: The United States, European Economic Area ("EEA") Member States, and other countries all have different laws relating to privacy and data protection. When your information is moved from your home country to another country, the laws and rules that protect your personal data in the country to which your information is transferred may be different from those in the country in which you live. For example, the circumstances in which law enforcement can access personal data may vary from country to country. In particular, if your information is in the United States, it may be accessed by government authorities in accordance with U.S. law.

Please be advised information we collect about you via the Services may be transferred, processed, and/or accessed by us in the United States, or another country where we or our Service Providers operate. Please be aware that the privacy laws and standards in certain countries, including the rights of authorities to access your personal data, may differ from those that apply in the country in which you reside. If you are located outside the United States and choose to allow us to collect information about you, please be aware that we may transfer your personal data to the United States and process and store it there. We will transfer personal data only to those countries to which we are permitted by law to transfer personal data, and we will take steps to ensure that your personal data continues to enjoy appropriate protections.

We will provide an individual opt-out choice, or opt-in for sensitive data, before we share your data with third parties other than our agents, or before we use it for a purpose other than which it was originally collected or subsequently authorised. To request to limit the use and disclosure of your Personal Data, please submit a written request to books@tuolumnegroup.com.

In certain situations, we may be required to disclose Personal Data in response to lawful requests by public authorities, including to meet national security or law enforcement requirements.

12. Children and Data Collection

Tuolumne Books's website is a general audience website. The Services are not directed toward children who are under the age of 18. You may not use the Services if you are under the age of 18. If you are under the age of 18, you should not provide any information on our Services.

We do not knowingly collect Personal Data from children or minors. If Tuolumne Books or its Service Providers become aware that a child or minor has provided us with Personal Data without parental consent, that information may be deleted from our databases. If you have questions about Personal Data that may have been submitted by a child, please email us at books@tuolumnegroup.com.

13. Enforcement

Tuolumne Books uses a self-assessment approach to assure compliance with this Privacy Policy and periodically verifies that the Privacy Policy is accurate, comprehensive for the information intended to be covered, prominently displayed, completely implemented and accessible, and in conformity with applicable privacy principles. We encourage interested persons to raise any concerns using the contact information provided and we will investigate and attempt to resolve any complaints or disputes regarding the use and disclosure of Personal Data in accordance with the principles.

If a complaint or dispute cannot be resolved through our internal process, we agree to dispute resolution using (an independent resourced mechanism) as a third-party resolution provider.

14. Tuolumne Books AI

The AI features within our partner or service provider platforms are powered by technology provided by OpenAI and other companies. AI may be used to automate tasks and increase the efficiency of certain processes.

To keep your data safe when processing it with AI, Tuolumne Books attempts to ensure the following:

- Encryption: all data transfers are encrypted using industry-leading practices;

- Minimal data transmission: only the essential amount of data is sent to secure endpoints;
- No training: your data will not be used for AI training purposes;
- Zero retention: we will not store your data on OpenAI servers or anywhere else outside of Tuolumne Books.

15. Updates

Tuolumne Books may update this Privacy Policy from time to time, and you should take the time to review it each time that you visit one of our Services. The most current version of this Privacy Policy will govern our use of your information and will be located at www.books.tuolumnegroup.com/policies/privacy. We will notify you of material changes to this Privacy Policy by updating the date at the bottom of this document or by emailing you notifying you of the changes.
